

CURRENT REVIEWS FEB-MAR/2007

Underwater Dreams

A Modern Greek Tragedy

By Dr. James Rouman

Peter E. Randall Publisher LLC
PR- Blueline Publicity – (603) 205-0552
media@bluelinepublicity.com
PO Box 4726, Portsmouth, NH 03802

Publication date — September 2006
$18.00, 152 pgs, cloth, 6" x 9"

BIBLIO/NBN - ISBN# 1-931807-42-6

See the animated book trailer at NEW website!

<http://www.jamesrouman.com>

Reviews of Underwater Dreams:

Odyssey Magazine, in their international January/February 2007 issue says, "What sets Rouman's novel apart is his insight into immigrant life in small town America...A laudable effort, Underwater Dreams is an interesting addition to the literature of the Greek American immigrant experience."

Connecticut Medicine highlights the medical angle, "This is not a tale that requires familiarity with the writer to grip the reader in its spell. For any physician who has heard a colleague say at retirement, 'I think I have at least one book in me and now I'm going to write it,' this is one that really got written and deserves a read."

Historywire.com, January 27, 2007, in Book Alert, "The new novel by retired anesthesiologist James Rouman is a welcome gift. ...Rouman is at his best in the difficult task of capturing urban black dialect in dialogue between characters Martha and Daisy, as their friendship deepens."

Kirkus notes, "The most intimate—and interesting — sections of the novel are the descriptions of anesthesiology: 'We have a connection to our patients no other doctors have...when they're asleep there's a constant dialogue going on between us...only the linguistics are different...It's almost a spiritual thing that's hard to explain.'"

Midwest Book Review calls it, "A dramatic and bittersweet tale, which paints thoroughly believable characters to the very end."

Featured Book on home page <http://www.dailyfrappe.com/> - Read an author interview on this popular Greek website & blog

Media inquiries please contact: Deidre Randall, Blueline Publicity, Peter E. Randall Publisher LLC.

Phone: (603) 205-0552, (603) 431-5667, E-mail: media@bluelinepublicity.com

Web Sites: www.perpublisher.com — www.bluelinepublicity.com — www.jamesrouman.com

Distribution: Biblio Distribution/NBN, 4501 Forbes Blvd., Suite 200, Lanham, MD 20706

Tel: 800-462-6420 / <http://www.bibliodistribution.com>